Tempo di Valse

The first system of musical notation consists of a grand staff with a treble and bass clef. The key signature is one sharp (F#) and the time signature is 3/4. The piece begins with a repeat sign. The first measure contains a dynamic marking of mf-ff. The right hand features a series of chords and a melodic line, while the left hand plays a steady bass line of eighth notes.

The second system continues the piece. The right hand has a melodic line with some grace notes and rests, while the left hand maintains a consistent eighth-note bass line.

The third system shows the right hand playing a series of chords and a melodic line. The left hand continues with the eighth-note bass line.

The fourth system features more complex chordal textures in the right hand, including some triplets. The left hand continues with the eighth-note bass line.

The fifth system concludes the piece with two endings. The first ending (marked '1.') leads back to the beginning of the piece, and the second ending (marked '2.') provides a final cadence. The right hand has a melodic flourish in the first ending, and the left hand has a final bass line.

The Honor of Altenstein.

Ruffhaus and Uhlans.

Lyric by
CHAS. J. CAMPBELL.Music by JULIAN EDWARDS.

Allegretto moderato.

The first system of the musical score consists of two staves. The upper staff is in treble clef and the lower staff is in bass clef. The key signature has three flats (B-flat, E-flat, A-flat) and the time signature is 2/4. The music begins with a forte (ff) dynamic. The upper staff features a melodic line with eighth and sixteenth notes, while the lower staff provides a rhythmic accompaniment with chords and eighth notes.

The second system continues the piece with two staves. The upper staff has a more active melodic line with eighth notes and some grace notes. The lower staff continues with a steady accompaniment of chords and eighth notes.

The third system shows the continuation of the piece. The upper staff has a melodic line with some rests and eighth notes. The lower staff maintains the accompaniment with chords and eighth notes.

The fourth system concludes the piece. The upper staff has a few notes and rests, ending with a fermata. The lower staff continues with a final accompaniment phrase, ending with a forte (f) dynamic. The word "RUFFHAUS." is written above the final notes of the upper staff, and "One i -" is written below it.

Allegro moderato.

WILHELMINE.

Piano.

The first system of the score consists of a vocal line for Wilhelmine and piano accompaniment. The vocal line is written in a treble clef with a key signature of one sharp (F#) and a time signature of 6/8. It begins with a whole rest. The piano accompaniment is written in a grand staff (treble and bass clefs) with the same key signature and time signature. It starts with a forte (ff) dynamic and features a rhythmic pattern of eighth notes and chords.

The second system continues the vocal and piano parts. The vocal line has a whole rest followed by a quarter note and a quarter rest. The piano accompaniment continues with its rhythmic pattern. The system concludes with a double bar line and a 3/4 time signature change.

 Pol-ly's mind en-gage One nice old gent for lunch-eon bought an ap-ple ev'-ry lunch, Where all the "Bulls and Bears" ad-journed each day—some pie to day, Some mil-lions he'd ac-quired by liv-ing in—that fru-gal munch. They'd call for "Ap-ple" "Quince" or "Mince," Sometimes a piece of each; But the way, She—paid him such at-ten-tion that one day he asked: Sweet pet, Will first time— Pol-ly— served them, All to- geth-er shout-ed "Peach!" But—you be an old man's dar-ling?" Pol-ly— coy-ly said, "You bet!" Now—
